INFORMATION FOR HOSTS OF INDIAN COOKERY TUITION

Learning to cook Indian food in your home is a unique concept, particularly as you will be learning in familiar surroundings. You do not need to purchase any ingredients as I will be bringing everything required, Spices, Ingredients & Utensils, and by the end of the session you should have a wonderful Indian meal to share with your family or friends.

The session is designed to teach you the fundamentals of Indian Cooking, by taking you through the preparation of some of your favourite dishes, explaining the ingredients and processes as we go. It is completely hands on, and although I will demonstrate some of the processes, you will be expected to get fully involved.

As the day progresses you will quickly see that Indian cooking is not the “dark art” that many people perceive it to be. By the end of the day you should understand the basics behind producing truly wonderful Indian food.

PREPARATION: Little preparation is required, except uninterrupted access to your kitchen for the duration of the class. On completion of the class I will clear away my pots and pans leaving you with some wonderful food and your newly acquired skills.

Prior to commencement of the class I would be grateful if you could advise me what sort of cooking facilities you have, in particular the type of Hob & Oven fitted.

MONEY:

Upon making the booking I will need a deposit of £50, with the balance being payable on the night (or sooner if you prefer). Should you wish to cancel your session for any reason, half of your deposit will be refundable as long as you cancel no later than 7 days prior to the party's commencement. Unfortunately should you cancel with less than 7 days notice, I will not be able to refund your deposit as preparation and purchase of ingredients will have already been undertaken.

Cheques should be made payable to Bina Kerry, and should be sent to Mrs Bina Kerry, 4 Rembrandt Close, Wokingham, Berkshire, RG41 3BL.

Thank you for your custom, I really appreciate your business and hope you enjoy the experience.
